Counterfeiters Hit Race Track

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Counterfeiters turned in $3,300 worth of bogus betting tickets recently at Tropical Park horse race track. Park officials said the thieves took a winning $10 ticket from the track and returned minutes later with 60 counterfeit tickets and cashed them. The single legitimate ticket was needed because a special code symbol on it was essential to reproduce.

Postal Rate Up, Urges Zip Code Use

Use of ZIP Code will make it easier to mail packages after January 15, Postmaster Brannan of Hope said today.

New rates and a new system for identifying parcel post zones will go into effect on that date as provided in legislation signed into law by President Johnson on September 20, 1966, the Postmaster pointed out.

The rate increases will average about 10 cents a parcel, Mr. Brannan said. Starting July 1, the law provides for a series of size and weight increases on packages mailed between first-class offices. Hope is a 1st class office. The size and weight increases will be in five annual steps, the last coming on July 1, 1971.

Use of ZIP Code in the recipient's address will enable the sender or a mail clerk to quickly determine the proper zone, and thus the rate, for the package. The zones will be based on the distance a parcel travels between the 552 sectional centers in the country, Mr. Brannan said.

But consulting a simple chart which is available at all post offices, the zone can be readily identified because the first three numbers of the ZIP Code represent the sectional center. This replaces a method in which a directory often had to be consulted to locate the proper zone for each of the nation's 33,000 post offices.

The new rates will range from 40 cents for a three-pound parcel destined for local delivery to 60 cents for the same parcel to zone 3 (150 to 300 miles) to $1.05 to zone 8 (over 1,800 miles). The new zoning method will also apply to air parcel post, catalogs and to publishers who pay zone rates on the advertising portion of their periodicals.

Mr. Brannan noted that all parcels mailed between post offices within the Hope sectional center will be charged at the first zone rate. There are 47 post offices within the Hope sectional center.

The new rates are expected to provide an additional $74 million a year for the Post Office Department the later size and weight increases will add another $32 million a year. The additional revenue is to help keep the Department within 4 percent of costs on parcel post as the law requires.

Lodge Thinks Casualties to Be Fewer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge predicted today a downturn in the percentage of American casualties in Vietnam this year. "The war would be pretty nearly over," Lodge added, once success is achieved in wiping out the threat from hardcore terrorists to Vietnamese villagers. But he gave no date on when he thought this slower, pacification task might be completed.

Lodge spoke in an interview with The Associated Press prior to his departure for Saigon Saturday after a month in the United States on home leave and consultation. He met Wednesday with President Johnson. Afterward, he told reporters U.S. forces may win military victory over organized Red troops this year but this would not automatically end the war.

As Lodge outlined it in his interview, there are actually four kinds of war being fought in South Vietnam — the conventional military operation against large units, weeding out terrorists, development of a constitutional political system which is under way, and the economic battle in which inflation has been successfully "staved off" at this point.

U.S. troops have been searching out Viet Cong and North Vietnamese army units. The American forces now total around 400,000 and they have been suffering about 100 killed a week.

"I believe the purely military part of the war — which is what the Americans are engaged in — will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining," Lodge said.

"The weeding out of the terrorists, however, takes longer," he added. "It is almost wholly a job for the Vietnamese."

"Until this is done and until local political institutions are constructed under which a police program and an economic and social program can be conducted, Vietnam cannot stand by itself and will continue to require help."

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. WILLIAM DUVALL MOORE

Camden First Presbyterian Church was the scene for the wedding December 17 of Miss Sandra Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Elmer Lee, and William Duvall Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Donner Moore of Hope.

Rev. Dwight West officiated at the ceremony. Music was presented by Mrs. Caughey Saxon, the soloist, and David Glaze, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown of white taffeta with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. The modified Empire waistline was overlaid with re-embroidered Alencon lace scattered with pearls. Lace and pearl motifs were appliqued on the bell-shaped skirt, and a full scalloped chapel train fell from lace and pearl flow.

ers. A crown of iridescent crystals held her shoulder-length veil and she carried a Bible topped with an orchid and Stephanotis.

Miss Joanne Robertson was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte Moore of Hope, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Becky Taylor of Pine Bluff and Miss Sara Lee, sister of the bride, who was a junior bridesmaid.

Mr. Moore was his son's best man. Ushers were David Moore of Arkadelphia, James Luck of Hope, and Robert Byers of Hot Springs.

A reception in Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony. The couple is at home in Hope, where she is practicing teaching at Hope High School and he is a supervisor with Meyers Bakery.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

THURSDAY, JANUARY 12
IS IT JEALOUSY?

Dear Helen: You meet adults one by one, and they're okay people, but when you get them together, in a crowd, they're worse than awful.

Look how they act on New Year's Eve. I never saw juveniles act any more stupid. Look how they flock into see "topless" waitresses. Like little 11-year-old-boys, sneaking a peek in the girls' wash room. Look at the way they make fools of themselves on the dance floor. The kids usually dance pretty cool, but not the old folks.

They tell us sex is terrible until marriage, when it becomes just fine, but do THEY keep their wedding vows? They say liquor is deadly for teens, but it's "smart" when adults get stinko.

They say we shouldn't be pushy and loud, but does the self-effacing adult ever get anywhere in business? They tell us to be humble when we are praised, but look at the politicians who hire press agents to push them.

What really bugged me into writing this, though, was the other night. The kids here want a teen center, so the grown-ups held a meeting to vote it down. Every time some big shot would get up and say how terrible the teens acted, and they'd ruin everything they touched, you should have heard the cheering. They mentioned Berkeley and Sunset Strip, and a few other way-out places, as if this was the normal. What really scared me was that people—believed it was.

Why do adults hate us? Are they jealous because we're on the way in and they're on the way out? Seems like every time a speaker takes a nasty crack at kids, the audience applauds like crazy. Yet when we talk to just one adult at a time, he likes us and sticks up for us.—HOW COME?

Dear How Come: I've noticed this too—adults who wouldn't think of knocking the teens they know, will join a crowd and start booing ALL young people, when a spellbinder sets them off.

On the other hand, teens who would never think of creating a disturbance singly, will go along with some mighty wild things when caught up in a crowd.

I think there's jealousy and fear on both sides of the fence, but not as much as you would think. Adults don't hate you, though they'll remain uneasy as long as teen rioting continues.

You can prove local youth isn't like that by mature actions—perhaps more mature than some of those you saw at the meeting. Meanwhile, collect all the information you can on excellent teen centers—Redding and Crescent California City, California, are two fine examples—and present them to your elders. I'm betting you'll win, and I'm on your side, all the way!

Dear Helen: I am the father of a near-16-year-old girl and I wholeheartedly agree with "Sissy." Dad, who didn't approve of nylons, dresses above the knee, long hair, and slacks, and insisted on bobby socks and bed at 9:30 p.m. Perhaps I'm reading between the lines, but it seems to me your answer implied, "If you don't get your way, Sissy, go to Mom and let her argue it out with Dad. Start a fight between your parents to get your way."

This is how it ends at our house. I think parents have enough trouble keeping their kids straight in this modern world without your encouraging an argument between them to pacify gument between them to pacify a child.—ANOTHER MODERNIZED FATHER

Dear Father: All I said to Sissy was, "Agree with your father until he sees the light, and let your mother carry the lantern."

I could say a great deal more—like, "Fathers who insist 16-year-old daughters wear bobby socks, out-of-style clothes, and get to bed at 9:30 p.m., need wives with very big lanterns!"

Has it occurred to you that you MIGHT be wrong?—H.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Here is a hand from the "Ace of Spies" which shows how declarer can make a defender's trick disappear into thin air.

Jason Winkman's description of the bidding and play: "I raised Edna's spade overcall to four. No! My hand doesn't rate that much action but for all I know I might be preempting my opponents out of a good save. "It looks like four losers off the top and it would have been if West had opened a club but West led a heart. East cashed his ace and king and led a third heart. Edna ruffed with the ace of trumps and played two rounds of trumps to wind up in dummy. Then she led a low diamond from dummy. This was cuter than a litter of Great Danes. East was gaffed and he knew it. He happened to be one of our big name players but that didn't help him any. He squinted and counted but he couldn't wriggle off the hook. You see it, of course. If Edna had taken a premature discard on the jack of hearts before leading that diamond, East could have handled the situation with surgical precision and Edna would have been down one. But this way — if he hopped up with the diamond ace it would establish the diamond queen for an eventual home for dummy's losing club. East finally decided to take his fixing the other way and played a low diamond. Edna won with the queen, reentered dummy with a trump, discarded a diamond on the heart jack and called for the king of diamonds. "East took his ace and sadly returned his cards to the board. He'd have to give her a ruff-sluff or a free finesse in clubs — a triumph for the placid in spirit; but it was also a little monument to those of us who maintain that bridge can be taught."

Teams Ready for Super Bowl Contest

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson took apart the Green Bay defense today without throwing a pass—and found that in Sunday's Super Bowl game he'll be firing against the equivalent of Boston's front four, Buffalo's linebackers and Oakland's secondary.

Ticking off attributes and personality of Green Bay's defensive forces, Dawson drew a comparison with the units of three American Football League teams.

"The Packers front four are extremely quick, like Boston's," Dawson said, "and like Boston they're a veteran group which plays extremely well together."

"The Green Bay linebackers are like Buffalo's," Dawson went on, "big, strong, fast, and they tackle very well. The ball carrier doesn't take them out. They're tough, they hit, they jam the tight end."

That comparison set Green Bay's linebackers—245-pound Dave Robinson, 240-pound Ray Nitschke and 250-pound Lee Roy Caffey against the Bills' trio of 240-pound Mike Stratton, 225-pound Harry Jacobs and 225-pound John Tracey.

"The Green Bay defensive backs are most like Oakland's," Dawson said as he completed his breakdown. "They're real solid at the corners and they all react very well."

Green Bay's cornerbacks are Herb Adderley and Bob Jeter, Oakland's Kent McCloghnan and Dave Grayson. The Packers safeties are Willie Wood and Tom Brown, the Raiders' Rodger Bird and Warren Powers.

Having completed his breakdown of the Green Bay defense into the three components, Dawson then put it back together again and said:

"There's no doubt they're going to present a problem. They pressure you extremely well, and like Boston they have a lot of second effort. If you knock them down, you've got to lay on them—or they'll get back into the play."

"But," Dawson added, "that doesn't mean they present a problem we can't overcome."

"We have the tools. The reason why we have been successful is that we haven't had to rely on one guy. If they double on Otis Taylor, we'll go somewhere else. If they stop Mike Garrett, we'll go to Curt McClintock, or Chris Burford or Fred Arbanas."

"If they go somewhere to stop something—they've got to be vulnerable somewhere else."

"That's my job — finding where."

Rich Pro Golf Season Opens

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The rich 1967 professional golf tour opens this week with some of the strongest of golf's competitors scratching for paydirt in the $60,000 San Diego Open.

Seven of last year's top cash winners open play with 139 other top golfers Thursday in the first round of the four-day tournament.

Defending his championship will be Billy Casper—who was last season's top money winner. The title defense is on the 6,000-yard Stardust Country Club course.

Witches and Ghosts

The ancient Druids believed that on Halloween spirits came out to harm people. They built bonfires to scare such creatures away. From these Druidic beliefs and customs comes the modern use of witches and ghosts in Halloween festivities.

No Sellout of Super Bowl Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kansas City and Green Bay will both show up for Sunday's Super Bowl game, but the anticipated sellout crowd probably will not, "I thought we would have a sellout and we might still have it," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday. "But it would be hard to get a sellout at this point."

Rozelle said that some 55,000 to 60,000 seats have been sold for the game, leaving more than 30,000 seats to go in order to fill the 93,000-seat Los Angeles Coliseum.

Rozelle pointed to the blackout backlash — the game will not be televised in the Los Angeles area and a suit was brought to force the lifting of the blackout—and the price scale of $6, $10 and $12 as two of the factors cutting into the sale of tickets.

Rozelle also revealed that the Super Bowl winner would meet the College All-Stars in Chicago in August and announced record attendance figures for both the NFL and AFL.

NFL attendance rose to 5,337,138 compared to 4,624,021 in 1965 while AFL attendance climbed from 1,782,384 to 2,160,369.

Draft Takes Yankee Player

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP) — First baseman Mike Hegan of the New York Yankees has been ordered to report for six months active duty in the Army.

Hegan, 24, who makes his winter home in Swampscott, was called up with a National Guard unit based in Stoughton. The Yankees said Monday that Hegan will serve his tour at Fort Dix, N.J.

Masters to Mean More Money

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Fewer spectators and higher prizes will be the rule for the prestige-laden Masters Golf Tournament in 1967.

The Augusta National Golf Club says the number of admission credentials will be cut sharply and that series badges, good for the four rounds in the 72-hole event on April 6-9, will be limited to patrons — persons on the club's mailing list.

Chairman Clifford Roberts of the Masters Tournament Committee said the price of series badges will be raised from $15 to $20. He said the badges will not cover practice rounds.

No tickets will be available to the general public for the tournament, the club said, unless patrons fail to fill the spectator quota, which was not disclosed.

The possibility that patrons will fail to exhaust the supply is unlikely. Augusta National reported that 90 per cent of the patrons requested series badges last year and closed out the supply a month before the tournament began.

Roberts said if the quota is not filled a certain number of daily admission tickets will be sold to the general public.

Meanwhile, in a separate announcement, the club said it is partially lifting the 225-mile television blackout of the final two days of the Masters by allowing a Columbus, Ga., station to carry the action.

Roberts said the viewing at Columbus, nearly 200 miles from Augusta, will be an experiment to determine if ticket sales would be hurt. He said if the club determines that admissions are not bothered by television, the viewing blackout may be completely or partially lifted.

Roberts said practice rounds for the Masters will be open to the public at $3 a person daily.

The tournament, considered one of the world's great golfing events, annually draws the top national and international amateurs and professionals on an invitation basis.

Boston College, replaced Lou Saban as Patriots' coach in October, 1961, and assumed the role of general manager in 1964. Saban recently signed a 10-year contract with the Denver Broncos.

The Patriots failed in a bid for the Eastern Division title last month when they lost to New York in the final game and Buffalo overtook them by defeating Denver. Boston had an 8-4 record. Holovak's over-all mark in the AFL is 45-26-8.

NCAA Sees

Academic

Understanding

By JACK DONOVAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The new president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said today he felt the NCAA and Eastern objectors to the 1.6 minimum academic rule could reach an understanding.

The large collegiate body rebuffed Eastern college efforts Wednesday to eliminate the one-year-old rule which requires a student-athlete to maintain at least a 1.6 minimum on a 4.0 grading scale to be eligible for athletic participation. A 1.6 is the equivalent to a D-plus average.

Dr. Marcus L. Plant of the University of Michigan said after his election as president of the 582-member organization that the NCAA is strong internally and with "no deep fissures."

"We are not without our problems," he said. "We never have been and we never will be."

Although the Eastern College Athletic Conference, comprising 146 NCAA members, got late convention support from the Southwest Conference and the Atlantic Coast Conference, it was unsuccessful in securing approval of any of six amendments designed to alter the present 1.6 regulation.

The objecting schools contend the rule violates institutional autonomy and is not applicable in their case because they do not have student-athletes.

John Wilkin of Colby College, in presenting the ECAC case, said the academic rule "tries to equate factors that are not equitable." At the request of a delegate to have a public statement on how the NCAA Council stood on the 1.6 issue, Everett D. Barnes of Colgate University, retiring NCAA president, said it was for retention of the present rule.

"The general conviction on the part of the majority is to give the 1.6 rule a chance to function another year," Plant said. He added that coming from the Big Ten Conference, which has a higher minimum standard, he favors it.

The 1968 convention will be in New York City Jan. 8-10. Walter J. Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said 520 of the organization's 582 members are in conformity with the 1.6 rule.

He said 11 institutions indicated no intention of complying, including only three members of the eight-school Ivy League: Yale, Harvard and Pennsylvania.

Byers identified the other eight institutions as Williams, Thiel, Tufts, Swarthmore, Rochester, Oberlin, Johns Hopkins and Muhlenberg.

"There is no stigma on a team for non-compliance with NCAA regulations," Byers said. It means only they cannot compete in an NCAA championship event or postseason bowl game sanctioned by the collegiate body.

In other action at the closing session of the 61st convention, the delegates:

Rejected a proposal to permit freshmen to compete in all varsity sports except football and basketball.

Approved exempting benefits under the GI Bill of Rights from grants-in-aid to student-athletes.

Voted down a move to limit scholarships to one or two years, with renewals. Grants-in-aid now may be given for four years.

Tabled a motion to extend the period of preseason football practice.

LARRY WILSON, the all-pro safety of the St. Louis Cardinals, was honored this year as the recipient of the first annual George Halas award. He is accepting the trophy, photo at right, from Murray Olderman, right, sports editor of Newspaper Enterprise Association, as the outstanding defensive player of the year. The seven-year veteran of the Cardinals, enjoying his greatest season, polled more votes for his position than any other man on the all-pro defensive platoon selected by the players for NEA. The presentation ceremony was also telecast by CBS-TV in a special pre-championship game program prepared in conjunction with the showing of the all-players all-pro team. Along with others honored, Wilson will be feted by CBS and the Pro Bowl on Jan. 29 at Television City in Los Angeles. Jr. Girls Lose to Spring Hill

By RALPH ROUNTON

The Hope Junior Girls suffered their 6th setback of the season last night as they fell before Spring Hill 34-23 in the Cale Tournament.

Hope trailed most of the way but did hold the lead a few times in the opening minutes. Spring Hill controlled the backboards and used this advantage to provide the winning margin.

After an early lead Hope lost its shooting eye and fell behind at the half 15-12. Early in the second half the Hope girls began to cut the Spring Hill lead with the shooting of Mary Beth Millican and Linda Wray and were ahead 25-21 at the end of three. In the final period Hope was outscored 9-2 and that was the game.

Millican led Hope with 12, Linda Wray 9, Lois Ford 2, Sharon East and Kathy Dexter performed best defensively.

Says Terrell One Handed Fighter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says his title bout with Ernie Terrell in the Astrodome Feb. 6 is the "battle of the champ and the so-called champ."

"Terrell is a one-handed fighter," Clay said. "Everybody knows that. All he's got is a left jab. Since he stole half of my title, I call him 'the one-armed bandit.'"

Clay began training for the fight Wednesday by going two rounds each at the Astrodome with sparring partners Mel Turnbow and Jimmy Ellis.

Terrell, recognized as heavyweight champion by the World Boxing Association, arrives in Houston next Monday.

The fight will be Clay's second in the Astrodome. He successfully defended his title by stopping Cleveland Williams last Nov. 14 in the dome structure's first boxing match.

Clay listed potential future opponents if he gets by Terrell as Zora Folley, Thad Spencer and "that young fellow (Joe) Frazier."

Perry Has Signed His Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Right-hander Gaylord Perry, a 21-8 performer with the San Francisco Giants in 1966 with his best season, has signed a 1967 contract at an estimated $40,000.

Perry, the first pitcher to win 20 games last season, earned a raise of about $10,000. The Giants boosted his pay last season when he posted his 20th victory Aug. 20.

Long Beach, Calif., (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs will work out in pads in their final three practices before Sunday's Super Bowl meeting with Green Bay.

Coach Hank Stram said Tuesday that the Chiefs will hold closed sessions through Friday, then rest Saturday before the contest with the National Football League champions in Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

Thomas Defends High Jump Mark

BOSTON (AP) — Six-time winner John Thomas was entered today for defense of his high jump championship in the 41st Knights of Columbus track meet Saturday night at the Boston Garden.

Thomas, a former Olympic and Boston University star, now is a probation officer.

Coach Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois said after the latest victory, "They don't put anything on the scoreboard."

Well, they do put the score on it, and because Walt Frazier made five foul shots in the last 66 seconds, Wednesday night it was the right kind of score for the eighth time in 10 games this season for the Salukis. Their only losses have been to Southern Methodist 66-64 and to Louisville 70-66 in overtime.

The only other member of the major college Top Ten to see action Wednesday night was North Carolina, and the Tar Heels came from eight points behind in the second half to nip North Carolina State 79-78 for their 12th victory in 13 games.

Bob Lewis led North Carolina with 25 points, and Rusty Clark and Larry Miller chipped in with 20 and 16, respectively. Dick Braucher's 24 led State.

A brief fight broke out just after the final buzzer at Chapel Hill when fan exchanged blows with State's Robert McLean. Order was restored quickly.

In the game at Carbondale, Southern Illinois built up a 27-16 lead in the first half only to see Louisville cut the margin to 29-26 at intermission. With 4:35 left in the game, Southern Illinois led 46-44, then after the two teams exchanged baskets, Frazier wrapped it up with his free throws.

Sophomore Dick Garrett scored 18 points and Frazier 16 for Southern Illinois. Westley Unseld led Louisville, now 13-1, with 23, and Butch Beard added 17.

Taylor Says Chiefs to Be Tough

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Jim Taylor pointed to a magazine on the chair, spread wide open to a picture layout of the Kansas City Chiefs.

"It looks like we're in with some tough guys," said the Green Bay Packers' fullback who likes to run over people. "It says here they have a fellow who cracks helmets open."

Taylor, a second draft choice in 1958, is just completing his ninth season in pro ball. The Super Bowl game Sunday, first meeting of the champions of the National Football League (Green Bay) and the American Football League (Kansas City), may be his very last as a Packer. The 31-year-old bulldozer has yet to sign a contract for 1968.

"This may be the biggest game I'll ever play in," said Taylor. "It is possible it could be my last as a Packer. I would like to make it a real big one."

Taylor finished way down the list in the battle for the NFL rushing title this season with 705 yards on 204 carries. However, he wound up as the Packers' leading pass receiver with 41 for 331 yards.

"I don't think I slipped any," said the 215-pound back. "I had a fair over-all year. I haven't carried the ball as much as usual. We were able to move the ball with passes. Bart (Starr) used me as a safety valve receiver."

"I feel I had as good a year blocking as ever. My job on pass blocking is to pick up the line-backer or the safety. In the Baltimore game Zeke (Bratkowski) changed the play at the line of scrimmage when he saw Alvin Haymond, the safety, blitzing. I picked off Haymond and Zeke hit Max McGee for a big gainer. I get as much kick out of a good block as from scoring a touchdown."

Taylor figures he has three or four more years to go in pro football.

Likes Those Philadelphia Players

NEW YORK (AP) — If Keith Allen had his way, most of the National Hockey League standouts who'll be playing in the All Star game at Montreal next Wednesday night would be wearing Philadelphia uniforms next October.

But Allen, who will coach the Philadelphia Flyers, one of six expansion clubs set to begin play in the NHL in 1967-68, is the first to admit he'll have to settle for less.

Asked by New York hockey writers Tuesday what 12 players he'd want on the Flyers' roster if there were no restrictions on his selections in the upcoming expansion draft, Allen took a deep breath and then rattled off a list of the NHL's biggest stars — a list that included Chicago's Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita, Montreal's Jean Beliveau and Toronto's Frank Mahovlich.

With that quartet in the lineup, Allen knows he could sit back and count Stanley Cup swag for several years to come. He also knows he has less chance of landing a Hull or Mahovlich than the Los Angeles Angels had of picking off a Mickey Mantle or Al Kaline seven years ago in baseball's first expansion grab-bag.

S. Illinois Pulls Major Cage Upset

Southern Illinois is not considered a major college basketball power. Convince Texas Western and Louisville.

The Salukis from Carbondale, Ill., 59-54 conquerors of Texas Western, the defending major college champion, upended previously unbeaten Louisville 53-50 Wednesday night.

Southern Illinois has a higher national ranking than either Texas Western or Louisville, but there is a difference — the Salukis top The Associated Press small college rankings while Louisville is No. 2 and Texas Western sixth among the major schools.

As for rankings, Coach Jack Hartman of Southern Illinois said after the latest victory, "They don't put anything on the scoreboard."

Hockey Loop Stars Are Selected

NEW YORK (AP) — Rod Gilbert, the National Hockey League's leading goal scorer, and Ed Giacomin, its top goaltender, were among five members of the New York Rangers named Monday by Coach Sid Abel to round out the NHL's All Star team.

Abel, coach of the Detroit Red Wings, will handle the All Stars who play the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens in the 20th annual classic at Montreal Jan. 18.

Other Rangers named were defenseman Jim Neilson and Harry Howell and right wing Bob Nevin.

Abel also named three members of the Boston Bruins, two from Detroit and one from Toronto to complete the 19-man squad.

Picked from the Bruins were center Murray Oliver, left wing Johnny Bucyk and defenseman Ted Green. Veteran centers Norm Ullman and Alex Delvecchio were selected from Detroit and another center, Dave Keon, was picked from Toronto.

Writers had selected five players from Chicago, two from Toronto and one from Detroit earlier. Those were goalie Glenn Hall, left wing Bobby Hull, center Stan Mikita and defenseman Pat Stapleton and Pierre Pilote of the Black Hawks, right wing Gordie Howe of the Red Wings and defenseman Allan Stanley and left wing Frank Mahovlich of the Maple Leafs.

Bobby Hull Is Back on His Target

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bobby Hull is back on target and that means trouble for National Hockey League goaltenders.

Chicago's Golden Jet fired three goals Wednesday night, leading the Black Hawks to a 6-1 romp over Detroit that moved Chicago into a tie for first place with the New York Rangers.

In the only other game played, Ron Ellis scored with less than four minutes left, giving Toronto 2-1 decision over Montreal.

The hat trick was the first this season and 18th of his career for Hull. It gave him the NHL lead in goals scored with 22, and seven in the last four games.

Hull set NHL records for goals with 54 and points with 97 last year but until the last week, he had not approached that kind of production this season with a hip injury causing him considerable trouble.

Ellis, working on a makeshift line with Larry Jeffrey and Bob Pulford, gave the Maple Leafs their victory over Montreal. He turned Pulford's pass behind Charlie Hodge at 16:12 of the final period.

The defeat dropped the defending champion Canadiens six points back of third-place Toronto.

No Knowledge of Flagrant Spa Gambling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Winthrop Rockefeller held his first news conference as governor Wednesday and treated a report of gambling in Hot Springs in a similar manner as did his predecessor, Orval E. Faubus.

Rockefeller said he had no knowledge of "flagrant" gambling in Hot Springs and that if it did exist, he would expect local authorities to crack down.

He said he would make the "full force" of his office available to local authorities, but did not specify whether he would ask the State Police to investigate.

The Arkansas Democrat reported Wednesday that gambling had resumed in Hot Springs. Rockefeller said he had not seen the article.

"During the last few months, I've had reason to believe that if gambling is going on in Garland County it is no more than that going on in other counties," he said.

The governor declined to be pinned down on whether he was adopting the same hands-off attitude that Faubus took for almost 10 years before he moved against the gamblers. Faubus ordered the Hot Springs casinos closed in March, 1964.

"To the best of my knowledge," Rockefeller said, "there has been nothing of a flagrant (gambling) nature in Garland County. And I'm not in favor of picking on Garland County

SKI AMERICAN

PROPER EXERCISES get the skier ready for a rugged day on the course, and Skeeter Werner, right, demonstrates one stretching routine on skis to Doak Walker.

By SKEETER WERNER

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The basic rules of physical conditioning apply to skiing as they do to other sports.

There's one important axiom on the slopes, however. The tired skier is the one most apt to get hurt. And we don't consider accidents a necessary part of the game.

Rather than prescribing a full set of pre-season exercises, since we're already into the snow weather and you should already be in shape to try the slopes, I'll outline some important pre-skiing exercises.

They're akin to a football player going out on the gridiron before a game and warming up to get his muscles limber for the job ahead. They're simple and should be done before the first run down the slope.

1. Standing on skis, bend forward and try to touch the tips of the skis with your hand. For some, it'll be tougher than most, but the important thing is to try.
2. Standing on skis, lift each ski alternately, bending the knee as much as possible. Even five times with each leg will help.
3. Standing on skis, twist the upper part of the body as far to the right as possible, and then to the left.

Particularly in cases where the skier has travelled a long distance, these exercises can help avoid accidents. Give them a try, and the second day of skiing will be more enjoyable.

Threatens Ireland Traffic

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The assistant general secretary of the National Farmers Association threatened Monday night to throw Ireland's traffic into a three-day snarl with another road blockade unless the government provides higher price supports for farm products.

Thirty thousand irate farmers successfully jumbled traffic and jangled drivers' nerves Monday in a nationwide demonstration for their demands.

An assortment of tractors, trucks, trailers and carts blocked key positions on every major highway and most bridges from County Cork to County Wicklow.

Rockefeller said he had no knowledge of "flagrant" gambling in Hot Springs and that if it did exist, he would expect local authorities to crack down.

He said he would make the "full force" of his office available to local authorities, but did not specify whether he would ask the State Police to investigate.

State Clears First Hurdle in Battle

By ROBERT L. SHAW

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bill to give university status to Arkansas State College at Jonesboro cleared its first hurdle in the Arkansas House Wednesday with ease that surprised its supporters.

The representatives voted 83-16 to pass HB8, which would change the name of the college to Arkansas State University effective July 1.

"I knew we had a total of 56 or 57 solid votes," said Rep. Jack S. Oakes of Augusta, the bill's floor manager, "but you couldn't have told me a week ago that we would get this many."

The measure's backers argued down attempts earlier in the Committee on State Agencies to delay consideration of the bill pending a public hearing. Then they outflanked opponents on the House floor who sought a hearing.

Oakes and others argued that the issue had been discussed since 1959, when the first attempt was made to elevate the college to university status, and there was little else that could be added. They also said there would be ample time for a hearing before the Senate takes up the bill.

Oakes said the chances of passage in the Senate were good. The Senate has its own version of the measure pending.

The Arkansas State issue took up most of the House's attention Wednesday. The House, however, passed and sent to the Senate another bill that would change the name of Arkansas State Teachers College at Conway to State College of Arkansas.

It also passed Senate Bill 1, the measure appropriating money for the Senate's expenses and salaries during the session. The Senate passed the House's expense bill and both were sent to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who signed them, his first such action since taking office Tuesday.

The Senate received a bill, sponsored by Sen. Guy Jones of Conway, that would require Senate confirmation of all appointments by a governor, except selections for constitutional agencies. This would have the effect of making Rockefeller's appointments subject immediately to Senate confirmation.

The Senate also debated for half of its three-hour session on whether to allow House members in the Senate lounge. The senators went into an hour-long executive session, then reconvened and talked another 30 minutes before deciding that House members could come into the lounge.

The Committee on State Agencies voted 11-2 to report out the Arkansas State bill with a "do pass" recommendation. Reps. Morris Henry of Fayetteville and Joe Hamilton of Harrison and others sought to delay the bill until a public hearing could be scheduled.

Proponents of the measure indicated that they thought this was purely an attempt at stalling. Opponents intimated that they thought the bill was being railroaded.

"A representative of the University of Arkansas told me that he wasn't too sure the university was going to oppose this bill," Oakes told the committee. "He said, 'Just give us until Tuesday. If we can't get some of those boys off by then, we won't oppose it.'"

"They want to delay it so they can get your name off that bill," Oakes said.

The House voted 70-26 to suspend the rules in order to consider HB8 when it reached the floor, since a copy had not been on the legislators' desks for the 24 hours required for a third reading. The representatives then immediately passed Oakes' motion that "all action on this matter" be confined to the main motion—adoption of the bill.

Rebuff to
RockefellerBy GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer

Last November the people of Arkansas elected Republican Rockefeller their governor by a decisive vote over Democrat Johnson — but the Democrat-dominated General Assembly instead of honoring the people's mandate apparently chooses to regard the Republican's victory as a trivial accident.

The Arkansas Senate persists in a collision course with the new governor on a strictly partisan basis. At the 11th hour the departing governor, Orval Faubus, made 93 appointments to state boards and commissions, and the Senate promptly confirmed them — and yesterday stood pat in rejecting the protest of incoming governor Rockefeller.

As if this weren't enough the Senate made its invasion of the governor's office still more clear by receiving a bill which would require Senate confirmation of gubernatorial appointments not only to constitutional agencies but all appointments whatever — a political-hatchet move to upgrade the legislative branch of government and downgrade the executive.

Obviously the masterminds of the General Assembly think the surest way to rebuild the Democratic party in Arkansas is to first create chaos in state government by hamstringing the Republican governor.

But it just might be that this same formula will be the means of burying Arkansas Democracy for years to come.

The people elected a Republican governor, decisively. Once they get the idea that the local politicians of the legislature are out to destroy him and nullify the vote of the entire state it isn't hard to imagine them rising in vengeance at the next election and overturning the Democratic majority in the Assembly.

That's something more than a forecast—it's a grim promise. We've just gotten through breaking up the state machine in one election—but if the machine spirit still lives in the General Assembly it will be a sitting-duck target for an angry people the very next time they vote.

Dismissal
in Baker
Case Studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Oliver Gasch has under advisement today a motion to dismiss the criminal charges against Bobby Baker because of electronic eavesdropping in the case.

Government prosecutors said they would develop testimony today involving the year 1962, when Baker is charged with filing a false income tax return.

He was secretary of the Senate Democratic majority at that time. Baker is charged also with income tax evasion in 1961 and with fraud and conspiracy in the handling of money.

Government prosecutor William O. Bittman said the trial, which opened Monday, was moving so quickly that "I think we can conclude our case in two weeks — more or less."

Baker's chief attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, filed the motion Wednesday to dismiss the charges. The government acknowledged electronic bugging of a meeting in a Los Angeles hotel room March 25, 1965, involving Baker and two others, but said the recording had no connection with the indictment against Baker.

Wednesday's testimony showed Baker had checked accounts in about a dozen different financial institutions.

It also brought an account from Gertrude C. Taylor, who was a partner with Baker in the Carousel motel, Ocean City, Md., in 1962, of the motel's financial troubles.

Congress Hopes LBJ's Tax Increase Will Be Sidetracked Some

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is clearing the track for early consideration of President Johnson's proposals for Social Security benefit increases.

But his request for a 6 per cent Vietnam war income tax surcharge has been switched to a sliding, to sit perhaps until April — or, as some members frankly hoped, indefinitely.

The House Ways and Means Committee is expected to announce next week that hearings will begin in early February on the proposed 20 per cent average increase in Social Security benefits.

Committees and the House meanwhile will be acting on an increase in the $330-billion debt ceiling, against which the Treasury has been scraping, and on a special appropriation bill, mostly for Vietnam expenses, totaling probably more than $10 billion.

Johnson's announcement last year that he would propose Social Security benefit increases got a warm bipartisan reception. But the size of the increase he suggested Tuesday night in his State of the Union message produced some head shaking.

The President proposed increasing minimum payments from $44 to $70 a month, an increase of at least 15 per cent for all 23 million persons receiving payments, and liberalization of the rule on the amount a retiree person may earn without reducing his pension.

He also proposed extending medicare, now confined to those 65 or older, to all recipients of Social Security disability benefits.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means committee, said such an increase would necessarily mean increasing the pay roll tax on employees and employers that finances Social Security.

"The pay roll tax already increased automatically this year, and another increase, plus possibly an income tax increase, adds up to quite a burden on the people paying for these benefits," Byrnes said.

Johnson did not mention financing of his proposal. Speculation was that it would require imposing a pay roll tax on the first $7,800 earned income, instead of the present $6,600.

In connection with the Social Security changes, the Ways and Means Committee also will consider limitations on state "medicaid" programs. These medical help activities, for which federal help was authorized several years ago, have in some cases been projected at levels well above what Congress contemplated.

An April start on hearings on the tax proposal means that Congress, if it does approve it, will have to keep to a tight schedule to meet the administrative request for a July 1 effective date.

On the other hand, the extra time would keep alive the chance that some new unforeseen development might ease the budgetary strain. It also would enable members to study Johnson's precise spending plans, with the possibility of reductions.

Pilkinton Named to Commission

Judge James H. Pilkinton of Hope has been appointed a member of the Arkansas Commemorative Commission for a term to expire March 19, 1975.

The appointment was made by Governor Orval E. Faubus on January 6, 1967. Incoming Governor, Winthrop Rockefeller has objected to 93 Faubus appointments.

"The work of this commission is strictly non-political," Pilkinton said today. "It has charge of the Old State House in Little Rock, and the Confederate Capitol Building in Washington, Hempstead County, where I live," he added.

Pilkinton helped form the Pioneer Restoration Foundation at Washington, and was its first president. The Foundation has been responsible for restoring the old town as a tourist attraction. The Confederate Capitol Building, which was the seat of Arkansas government during the civil war, is one of the major attractions there although it belongs to the state.

Judge Pilkinton succeeds Mrs. Charles A. Haynes of Washington, Arkansas, as a member of the Commemorative Commission. Pilkinton said he accepted the appointment "only because of my interest in history, and my interest in Washington, and not for any political reasons."

Court Ruling Very Important to Civil Rights Marchers

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before the end of the term the Supreme Court will decide a novel question of paramount importance to civil rights marchers and administrators of justice.

It is: May judges and policemen be sued for damages under an 1871 civil rights law?

If they are ruled immune from such suits, civil rights demonstrators will be barred from using the Reconstruction statute to sue for false arrest and conviction.

But if they are not immune, the door could swing wide open for such suits — a prospect which appeared to deeply concern at least three of the nine Supreme Court justices who heard arguments on the matter Wednesday.

The case at hand involves four Episcopal ministers, one of them a former son-in-law of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who were arrested in a Jackson, Miss., bus depot in September 1961.

The ministers were part of a racially mixed group of Episcopal clergymen on a civil rights "prayer pilgrimage" from New Orleans to Detroit. Three are white and the fourth Negro.

Their trip up the Mississippi Valley was cut short when they tried to eat in a coffee shop in the depot.

According to their attorney, Carl Rachlin of New York City, they entered the depot peacefully and were arrested to enforce segregation. The station outside the depot, Rachlin said, read: "Whites only, by order of police."

But according to attorney Elizabeth Watkins Hulen Grayson of Jackson — representing the three arresting police officers and the local police justice, the ministers "broadcast the fact they came to be arrested." They attracted a crowd of 30 to 40 persons, Mrs. Grayson said.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A resolution calling for an immediate start on a 12,000-seat coliseum in downtown Richmond has been approved by the City Council.

Mistrial in Murder Case

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Malvern, Ark. (AP) — A jury failed to reach a verdict Wednesday in the murder of J. C. Cook of Malvern and Circuit Judge Henry Means declared a mistrial.

Cook, 32, was charged in the Nov. 19, 1966 beating death of Mrs. Milly Lee, 74. She died in a Little Rock hospital two days later.

Means did not set a date for a new trial but set bond for Cook at $5,000.

Visitors to County Spend
$2.5 Million

Travel expenditures by visitors contributed $2,565,000 to the economy of Hempstead county, states Calvin J. Caldwell, county Extension agent.

Hempstead county is embraced by one of the five economic regions which collected 15.2 per cent of the state's $259,132,000. Recreation is a big business.

The expenditure covers a great variety of manufactured goods as well as natural resources and services. Much of the money is spent in the urban centers, however, income-producing recreational facilities have a two-fold purpose—urban and country purpose. It offers the rural resident a new alternative use for his land, and the city resident a greater variety of opportunities for fun and relaxation that the urban environment cannot provide.

The Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 expands the existing USDA program that provides technical assistance and loans to rural landowners in establishing income-producing rural recreation enterprises.

Throughout Arkansas privately owned recreational facilities are supplementing the family income and providing full time jobs. These include fishing lakes, riding stables, dude ranches, riding vacation camps, hunting preserves, guide service, vacation homes, camp grounds, multi-purpose recreation areas, and many others.

On the heels of this ultimatum — which used the word "final" for the first time — four important official bodies dominated by Mao issued a directive calling on the army, the party, the government and the people throughout the nation "to take concerted action and to beat back the new counterattack of the bourgeois reactionary line."

Until now, the army has been carrying out its own purge as part of the so-called "great proletarian cultural revolution." Its injection into the civilian purge was considered an apparent indication that Mao's position has been seriously weakened by the rash of strikes, walkouts, violent clashes and sabotage which have swept the country in the past three weeks.

The fact that he made a public appeal to the army rather than issuing a simple order hinted at the possibility that a number of army units are no longer under Lin's control. It had been taken for granted that Lin's sway over the armed forces was complete.

Mao Issues
Ultimatum to Opposition

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung has delivered an ultimatum to his enemies, called on the army to help crush them and obtained pledges of loyalty from military units throughout China, organs under his control reported today.

There was no indication Mao's opponents were buckling under the pressure. Peking Radio said that Mao has ordered complete reorganization of the "cultural revolutionary committee" of the armed forces, a possible indication of military opposition to Mao despite the claimed pledges of support.

The new turn in the Chinese Communist party chairman's seething struggle with the party faction headed by President Liu Shao-chi coincided with an admission that there has been fighting in Shanghai. Mao, 73, ordered the city quarantined and all travel in and out limited.

The appeal to the army — and the reported swift response — also suggested that the 2.5-million-man armed forces may be wavering in their loyalty to Mao and Defense Minister Lin Biao, his No. 1 ally and nominally in control of the army.

The army's declaration of loyalty followed an editorial in the Peking People's Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag — both controlled by Mao — which warned Liu's faction "to make a final reconsideration immediately and surrender to the revolutionary people."

On the heels of this ultimatum — which used the word "final" for the first time — four important official bodies dominated by Mao issued a directive calling on the army, the party, the government and the people throughout the nation "to take concerted action and to beat back the new counterattack of the bourgeois reactionary line."

The fact that he made a public appeal to the army rather than issuing a simple order hinted at the possibility that a number of army units are no longer under Lin's control. It had been taken for granted that Lin's sway over the armed forces was complete.

Until now, the army has been carrying out its own purge as part of the so-called "great proletarian cultural revolution." Its injection into the civilian purge was considered an apparent indication that Mao's position has been seriously weakened by the rash of strikes, walkouts, violent clashes and sabotage which have swept the country in the past three weeks.

Figure Tax
Hike — Just
Add 6%

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's easy to calculate how President Johnson's proposed 6 per cent surtax would affect you: Figure your taxes, then add 6 per cent.

If your tax as now computed totals $500, the surtax would add $30 for a full year. If your tax is $1,000, you would add $60; if $2,000, the surtax would be $120 a year.

For corporations the rule would be the same.

There would be exemptions for lower-income families. A family of four with an income below $5,000 a year would be exempt, as would a single person with an income below $1,900 a year.

Johnson indicated in his State of the Union message that the surtax, if approved by Congress, would take effect July 1, when fiscal 1968 begins.

Thus it would be in force for only the last six months of calendar 1967. The effect over the full year would be to increase your tax liability, as shown in Purfoy was the son of George A. Purfoy of Little Rock.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—You don't have to be very old to remember when, if there was no way to avoid printing the word, it was discreetly and with great gentility referred to as s-x.

Now we are living in an era of topless, sideless, backless, fashion magazines that promote promiscuity, orgies, nude parties at colleges and other assorted indications of a revolution and/or an empty life.

These things will be covered (if you'll pardon the expression) in Sex in the '60s, telecast on ABC Stage '67, Jan. 12 as the first program after the series moves to Thursday nights. But, producer Irving Gittlin says, the audience is not to "get the idea this is a TV stag film."

Laughingly calling himself the "world's greatest living expert on sex," Gittlin says the show is "a result of months of study. It is a survey of what is happening in this decade of great changes. We could have done a sexual travelogue and gotten the biggest rating in the world. But we're trying to add up all the changes as to what they mean and why. There are no easy conclusions. People ask if America is going to the dogs. There is no answer to that. We must ask better questions."

Gittlin, who now has his own production company after years of heading at NBC News, says he was amazed at the ease with which camera crews "can go around and get overt sexuality on film. The younger generation will discuss any aspect of sex. 'Sure, what questions do you want answered?' they say. Anyone over 30 probably feels a certain sensation that 'this shouldn't be discussed.' Anyone under 30 has a what-do-you-want-to-know attitude."

Gittlin is used to jokes being made at his expense about this show. "One friend wanted to know if it was about the East 60s or the West 60s in New York." He makes his own joke when asked what he plans to do after the show is telecast. "Take a long rest, which is typical of my age and generation."

Gilbert Price, the excellent young singer who makes so many appearances on the syndicated Merv Griffin Show, has learned to keep his clothes on when he sings. But it was not always so.

His scandalous performance, in which everything came off, was caused, he says, by nervousness.

"I was at a Catholic camp and I was asked to sing," he recalled. "I was easily impressed at the time by emotional singers. I saw Johnny Ray and watched him tear off his jacket and his tie. I was so nervous when I began to sing that someone told me just to look at a light and sing. I did and before I knew it I was naked."

He was six years old at the received by enlisted men in combat zones, and the first $200 of offices in combat zones.

If hospitalized as a result of such service, the enlisted man's exemption includes all pay while hospitalized and, for officers, up to $500 monthly of such pay.

Any part of a month in the combat zone or in the hospital as a result of wounds or injury counts as a full month for both groups.

IRS has taken another step to speed up refunds to the wives of our servicemen in Viet Nam.

Where joint returns are filed, an exception will be made to the general rule and only the wife's signature will be required. Where the husband's signature would appear the wife should write: "Serving in Viet Nam."

Furthermore, IRS promises to speed up the processing of such refunds.

While military men have the same April 15 filing deadline as civilians, they receive an automatic two-month extension if they are out of the country on that date. Those serving in Viet Nam have until 180 days after they leave Viet Nam to file their returns.

TAXABLE military pay includes:

- Pay received on active duty or while attending armed forces' academies.
- Lump sum payments upon separation from service.
- Re-enlistment bonus.
- ROTC pay.
- Reserve training pay.
- Longevity pay.

NONTAXABLE military and veterans' pay includes:

- Payments equal to six months' pay to beneficiaries of servicemen who died on active duty.
- Veterans' benefits paid by the Veterans Administration to veterans and their families.
- Education, training and subsistence allowances to veterans.
- Disability compensation.
- Veterans' insurance proceeds and dividends. (Interest earned on dividends left with VA is taxable.)
- Veterans' bonuses paid by states.
- Subsistence, uniform and quarters allowances.
- Grants to seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for "wheelchair living."
- Grants for motor vehicles to veterans who lost their sight or use of their limbs.

(NEXT: Sick pay.)

Rollo Fitch Replaced by Babbitt

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Like his new boss, Dr. Wayne Babbitt, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's choice to direct the state Livestock and Poultry Commission, is an adopted Arkansan.

The sandy-haired, 38-year-old veterinarian is Rockefeller's first major appointment from Republican Party ranks. He starts work in the $11,000-a-year post today, succeeding Rollo Fitch, an appointee of Gov. Orval Faubus. The appointment was announced Wednesday. Babbitt was looking for a place in which to locate his practice when he took a vacation in Hot Springs in 1956. While he was in Arkansas, he visited a North Little Rock resident who was a classmate at Colorado State University. "He did a Chamber of Commerce job on me and sold me," Babbitt said. He moved to North Little Rock early in 1957. Born in Macedonia, Iowa, and reared in Plattsmouth, Neb., Babbitt enrolled in Colorado State because Nebraska had no veterinary school. After graduation in 1958, he began practicing in Nebraska City, Neb., but he didn't like it there. Babbitt has been happy in practicing in Nebraska City, Neb., since he became active in Republican Party politics in 1961, the year Rockefeller became GOP national committeeman and took personal responsibility for the party's fortunes. Babbitt was a Republican without a GOP heritage. "My father was a Democrat in a Republican state," he said. "I became a Republican in a Democratic state." In the early days of his party activity, he helped organize a Republican club in North Little Rock, then began his rise through party ranks, serving first as a precinct committee man. It was a good time for rapid advancement in the maturing party. By 1964 Babbitt was a delegate to the GOP national convention and a candidate for the state Senate against Democrat Dan Sprick. Babbitt lost the Senate race, but he was elected vice chairman of the Arkansas Republican Party. That job moved him into Rockefeller's inner circle and he served on an eight-man committee that set policy for the Rockefeller campaign this year. He was not on the Rockefeller payroll, but he spent almost full-time on the job all summer and fall, turning his practice over to an associate.

Combine Celery with Short Ribs

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

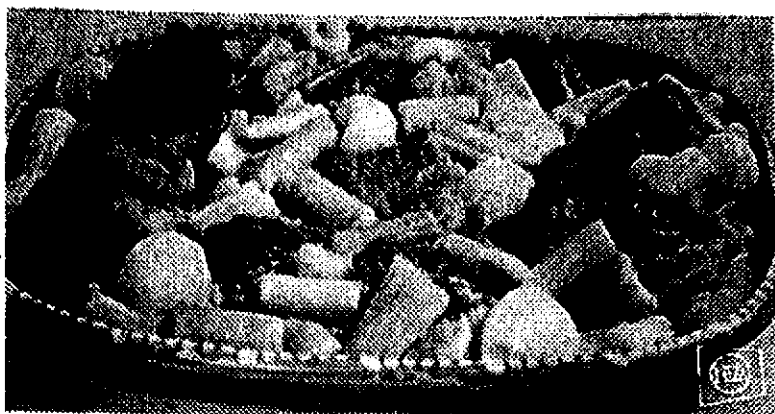

You'll find an abundance of sweet tender celery in the market now. It is being shipped from Florida. About 5 per cent of it is Pascal, the green variety.

Incidentally, do you know that a "stalk" of celery is the whole plant, a "rib" is a single strip from the stalk. Florida celery is known for its particularly long, heavy and crisp "ribs."

The United States consumes roughly 1/4-billion pounds of celery a year—as in salads, soups, sauces, stuffings, sandwich fillings and in combination with meat, fish and poultry. It is also popular as a hot vegetable.

3 pounds short ribs of beef cut into 3-inch pieces
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour

ADDED TOUCH to braised short ribs.

3 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups boiling water
6 medium white onions
5 stalks celery
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon thyme leaves
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons cold water

Trim excess fat from beef and discard. Dredge meat in flour mixed with salt. Brown on all sides in shortening in deep skillet or Dutch oven.

Add water, cover and simmer 2 hours or until meat is almost tender. Add onions and cook 10 minutes, covered. Cut celery into 2-inch pieces and add with pepper and thyme leaves. Cover and cook 25 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables to heated platter. Thicken gravy with flour blended with cold water. Cook 1 minute. Serve gravy with meat and vegetables. Six to 8 servings.

Dieters, Eat When Hungry

By GAYNOR MADDOX, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I'm on a diet and get awfully hungry waiting for dinner. Can't I eat some of my calories without waiting for regular mealtime?

A—Dieters are more likely to succeed if they eat their allotted calories when they are hungry rather than at traditional meal times, according to Dr. Jean Mayer of Harvard's Department of Nutrition. "A good reducing diet should not make a person feel too hungry, but there are great variations on the timing and sequence of hunger sensations among the different age groups, sexes and individuals," he states in Nutrition Today.

Q—How can I tell how many servings I can get from a big turkey?

A—When buying whole ready-to-cook turkeys under 12 pounds, allow 1/4 to 1/2 pound per serving. For larger birds allow 1/2 to 3/4 pound. With uncooked boneless turkey roasts, allow 1/2 pound per serving. A ready guide for turkey size and servings:

| Ready-to-Cook Weight | Number of Servings |
|----------------------|--------------------|
| 5 to 8 | 6 to 10 |
| 8 to 12 | 10 to 20 |
| 12 to 16 | 20 to 32 |
| 16 to 20 | 32 to 40 |
| 20 to 24 | 40 to 50 |

DO-IT-YOURSELF

No matter how hard you try, it is very difficult to keep a house draft-free. Drafts find a variety of ways to enter and the results are discomfort and higher heating bills.

First of all, such obvious remedies as weather stripping and the use of storm windows and storm doors should be taken care of. Felt weather strip is cheapest, easy to apply, but the least durable. Consider this if you are renting. Bronze is expensive but lasts and lasts.

Don't forget a piece of weather strip for the bottom of all outside doors. Closets on outside walls get pretty cold and an air current will result with a steady blast of cold air from under the door.

Most drafts can be prevented by weather stripping.

Apply weather stripping to

HOPE (ARK) STAR. Printed by Offset

If you have a fireplace, you may be getting a draft through the chimney when the fireplace is not in use. Just remember to keep the damper closed to block a downdraft.

If the fireplace is on an outside wall, check mortar joints around the fireplace. Ready-mix mortar and trowel in after first cleaning cracks of all loose mortar.

Check Baseboards

Drafts often develop along the baseboard, especially in a basementless home. Whenever you find such a draft, carefully pry up the quarter-round molding and caulk the crack underneath. Replace the molding. If there is no molding simply caulk the seam and paint, stain or varnish to match floor or baseboard.

Drafts enter around foundations, especially where masonry meets siding. Apply caulk here and around doors and window frames as well. The holes where outdoor faucets come through the wall are another source of unwanted ventilation. Caulk these, too. If the holes are large, stuff them with insulation first. Treat outdoor electrical outlets, and the opening for your television antenna the same way.

Air conditioners installed in windows have small openings all around that will admit a draft. If it is not practical to remove the air conditioner, then make it as airtight as possible. Caulk all around the mounting board and between the unit and the sill below and window edge above. Get a cover for the air conditioner. This prevents air from blowing through the unit as well as protecting it.

Cover Fans

Covers are available for exhaust fan openings through which a high wind can cause a draft. If you can't find one, make your own by taking off the grill and lining it with aluminum foil.

Close doors and trap doors to unheated attics. Do not block ventilation openings in the attic. Insulate the floors of unfinished attics to keep rooms below warmer.

Is there a cracked window pane around? Air will come through it. If you can't repair it immediately, then cover with plastic film held with staples.

Dried and loose putty around windows will permit air to enter. Replacing the putty will stop the draft and end window rattling at the same time.

MORE GAME BIRDS

PRAGUE (AP)—Large-scale breeding stations will be set up in Central Bohemia, to increase the numbers of partridges and pheasants, the news agency C.T.K. reported recently.

C.T.K. said hunting not only produces annually 5,000 tons of game meat but is also a source of hard currency when foreigners pay for hunting privileges.

Be a Blonde in 10 Minutes

THE YOUNG LADY who finds her hair has gone darker as she leaves her teens can regain her blondeness all the more easily and speedily with the aid of a new hair lightener. With the short, breezy (left) hairstyle a golden halo radiates. For playtime she simply brushes back the bangs (right) and adds braids.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—There must be something special about being a blonde. Men still whistle at them. So, more and more women are becoming blondes overnight.

There was a time when women born with dark hair were stuck with it, like it or not.

Today if they don't like it, they lighten it.

There are many ways of turning dark hair into fair hair. One of the simplest is a two-step hair-coloring method, known as blonding, used to create the very light or ashen shades.

In blonding, a lightener or bleach is used first to remove color from the natural pigment. Then a delicate coloring is applied to create the silver, platinum, ash, champagne or beige blonde shade desired.

This shampoo-in toner takes as little as 10 minutes to give color to your hair. Its color will last for four weeks without fading or looking brassy.

One important thing to remember is that as your hair color changes, your make-up must be changed, too. The colors you used with dark hair will not complement a lighter shade.

As you lighten your hair, your make-up should be in softer, more pastel hues.

Never have your hair colored unless it is in good condition. If your hair is very dry, you should give it some conditioning treatments before you start.

Your hair should always be soft, shiny and manageable whether you are using color or not.
